

Sanjib Chattopadhyay was born at Burdwan, West Bengal, India on 30th October 1967. He studied Zoology Hons in Ramkrishna Mission Vivekananda Centenary College, Rahara, then under University of Calcutta and passed out in 1988. Then he completed M.Sc in Zoology from Visva-Bharati University, Santiniketan in the Year 1991. At that time he was taught by Professor Nirmal Chandra Sukul, who is a legendary figure in the field of homeopathic research. Chattopadhyay obtained Ph.D degree from the same University in 1997 under the guidance of Professor A.K. Aditya and joined as a Lecturer in Zoology at BKC College, Kolkata. He was promoted to the post of Associate Professor in 2009, worked there up to July, 2015. During that time he expressed keen interest in the field of alternate medicine and achieved MD degree in Biochemic system of Medicine. Chattopadhyay has got some publications in homeopathic research. In 3rd July 2015 he joined as a Principal of Bangabasi Evening College, Kolkata, India.